

I think that it is important to regulate large corporations which control vast amounts of media in order to protect and promote diversity in the media and support local reporting.